STONINGTON

Peter Volina, known as "Pete, the Tailor," one of the quartet arrested and held for trial in the superior court, for brutally assaulting an employee of the Shore Line Electric railway, a few months since, was in the Stonington town court Tuesday, on a complaint served out by Prosecutor Benjamin H. Hewitt. Volina was charged with breaking and entering a dwelling and assaulting Mary Cronneck, by kicking her. Probable cause was found for binding him over for trial in the superior court. A bond of $200 was furnished for his appearance.

The Sylvia of Stonington did their bit during the recent war, as is shown in the Stonington Honor Roll. The name of Sylvia leads the list in point of number with a total of seventeen of these ten served in the army, six in the navy and one with the Red Cross. The Honor Roll has been raised and is now held in place by large posters these being substituted for the back-stays. The general appearance is considerably improved.

WESTERLY

In the superior court at Westbury Tuesday, Judge John Doran presiding, the case called for trial was the various church against Louis Gentile, for violation of contract. William Loveland, Jr., salesman for the four company sold under the present and present contract of the company, a bill of goods. When the goods arrived Gentile refused to receive and, after the elapsed time as set forth in the contract, the seller cancelled the bill, and forthwith invited bids for the goods. The bids were received and the goods sold to the highest bidder. The loss on the sale was $33.40 which included the cancellation charges allowed under the contract. This is the amount plaintiff sought to recover. Attorney Dunn for the defendant.

Judge Doran charged that "if the goods for Gentile were placed in the car for shipment within thirty days after the order was confirmed, the company performed its part of the contract. If not the company is not entitled to damages. If the company did this, the plaintiff is entitled to recover the difference between the price offered to Gentile and the actual price for which the goods were eventually sold, including the cancellation charges that prevailed during war times, which were required to equalize the distribution of flour."

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff to recover $35. They deliberated for an hour and fifteen minutes.

Medical Examiner Manning has asked Coroner John Pierce, of Wickford, to hold an inquest on the death of Walter M. Wood of that town, killed Saturday night, by the G. H. Edge express, Wickford, at the junction. William J. Hickey of New Haven, who was arrested Sunday morning by Town Sergeant Pierce after an investigation of Mr. Wood's movements, just before he was killed, was in the third district court, Tuesday, charged with being a disorderly person. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail. A grand jury has returned a bill against Hickey and Wood for the murder of the One Hundred and Thirtieth Infantry, who was in the company of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, and worked at Wickford loading and unloading cars.

For the purpose of greater efficiency and the extension of religious influence in Rhode Island, there is to be a permanent organization of a state advisory committee of the Inter-Church World Movement. Among those who have accepted definite tasks as officials of the organization are: Rt. Rev. James De Wolf Perry, Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Rhode Island; W. H. P. Paine, president of the University of Rhode Island; Rev. J. H. Gardner, of Providence. The work, which will probably begin about the close of the year and continue for a period of four or five months, will cover all of the activities, equipment and programmes of the various churches in the state. Special effort will be made to determine whether each neighborhood has too few or too many churches. Congregations will be listed according to their size, and in instances where the influence of the church has not made itself felt, trained workers and funds for the maintenance of the general organization will be introduced or reestablished religious power and prestige.

It is planned to pay particular attention to strengthening Protestant church activities in the rural sections of the state. With the available data at hand, county communities where regular pastors are not maintained will be cared for by the inter-church movement.

The state advisory committee is composed of delegates from co-operating religious bodies, each denomination having representatives according to its already designated territory. The delegates are: Congregational, Methodist Episcopal, Baptist, Protestant Episcopal, United Presbyterian, Presbyterian church of the United States of America, Christian church, African Methodist Episcopal, Swedish Lutheran, Christian Advent, Primitive Methodist, Providence Meeting of Friends, and the Seventh Day Baptists have not yet selected delegates.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR BACKACHE

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; when your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so if no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our bodies are filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and general decline in health.

Two big features from the bill at the Broad theatre for today and Thursday. The first being beautiful Olive Thomas in the Triangle special production "Loves Prisoner." Bright bits of comedy nicely blended with sentimental appealing situations in this feature furnish a drama that will meet the most exacting though diversified tastes of picture enthusiasts.

The leading role of Miss Thomas unusual opportunities to display her versatile talents, for she appears as a charity worker and a thief; a girl whose early environment has nourished a character none too exacting as to code of honor. Finally she blossoms forth into a woman whose absorbing scenes of right and wrong is awakened by love.

For the second feature Alice Joyce will appear in "The Girl in the Window." This picture is a dramatic power. This picture is derived from the magazine story by Charles Stokess Wayne. The dramatic and sentimental situations in this picture furnish a drama that will meet the most exacting though diversified tastes of picture enthusiasts.

PUBLIC ORGAN RECITAL BY NOTED HEBREW MUSICIAN

A free organ recital is to be given under the auspices of the Norwich Music association in the Community house on Church street Monday evening, Dec. 1st, at 8 o'clock.

The association considers itself extremely fortunate in being able to give to the people of Norwich the opportunity of hearing G. H. Federlein, the organist of Temple Emanuel, the foremost Hebrew synagogue in the United States.

Mr. Federlein is a native American who has lived all his life in New York. He is a composer and has composed one hundred published compositions in organ, church and secular music. He has given recitals throughout the eastern states. Mr. Federlein is a member of the American Guild of Organists and sub-warden of that organization. He has achieved the distinction of being made a fellow in the guild, an honor far exceeding that of being an associate member. While strict examinations are necessary for admission to either class of membership, to become a fellow is irrefutable proof of great ability.

Realizing that for some time prior to its organization public organ recitals had fallen somewhat into disuse in Norwich, the Norwich Music association since its inception has for five years made a consecutive effort to revive an interest in pipe organ music, thus showing itself in complete accord with the avowed aim of the American Guild of Organists.

Added interest in the program Monday evening will be afforded by the vocal numbers to be given by Mrs. Lloyd Greene, Buckingham, soprano soloist of Trinity Episcopal church, Norwich.

That breezy, bubbling, sparkling musical comedy, The Love Doctor, which will be the attraction at the Orpheum theatre, Danielson, met Friday, Nov. 27, is described as a tonic in two doses for the loved and loveless. If you have loved and won, consult The Love Doctor. If you have loved and lost The Love Doctor can advise you, as he specializes in all love diseases, in fact if you have never been in love The Love Doctor will explain to you how to fall in love.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MARY PICKFORD IN DADDY LONG LEGS

To those who have read Jean Webster's great story Daddy Long Legs, and to those who have seen it in play form on the spot, stage and production on the screen with Mary Pickford in the star part at the Davis theatre today will surely see a source of delight.

Mary Pickford's undiminished popularity in "Daddy Long Legs" through the country and right here in Norwich shows that the people's favorite star in her most delightful play is a highly pleasing diversion during those days of turmoil and unrest.

In Boston where the production has been running since early in April, breaking records at the Tremont Theatre, the critics are praising it continually. They all seem to delight in saying "this thing from week to week, about the charming Mary and her splendid play. To quote a paragraph from one of the cultured scribes, "It would be difficult indeed to name an attraction which could excel this charming production for driving away care and worries and bringing peace of mind and genuine happiness. Don't miss this your last opportunity to see this picture beautiful."

Mack Bennett's Beautiful "Campbell Are Comin' to the Davis.

The most unusual event in the history of motion pictures exhibition here is scheduled to take place at the Davis theatre. The film "Campbell Are Comin' to the Davis" will appear in person on the stage simultaneously with the screen showing of the comedy king's latest and biggest production, "Yankee Doodle in Berlin."

Bennett's fame has been chiefly earned by his two-act film burlesque, issued by Paramount and made by him or the great retaining agency, "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," was a Sennett enterprise, put forth only on a state-rights basis. It is five reels of continuous hilarity, with German royal buff and bluster, its butt, and on it the "Griffith of Comedy" has expended all his wealth of inventive genius in broad satire.

Previous to this, the prime, undisputed comic hit of the past few years was "Mickey," also a Sennett production, with Mabel Normand as the star. Now, it is proposed to beat the turreted caused by "Mickey" by the personal appearance of the "Bathing Beauties," who will come east to add a filip to the picture, in which they appear.

The girls will be seen (and heard) in the most elaborate and bizarre surmounting worn for the camera lens. They will, as it were step down out of the screen to carry their message of vigorous health and physical perfection in elaborate poses and a staged sketch.

This dual entertainment was first put on in San Francisco, where it created such intense public interest, that Mr. Bennett's plan was to permit a brief tour of the girls to cover a few leading eastern cities. It will be their first absence from the California coast.

In "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," which is not a war picture but a long laugh at the sarcasm and pretensions of the royalty, all the most prominent Sennett factors are assembled, including bothwell Brown, the noted actor of feminine roles, in the pivotal part.

Four shows Thanksgiving day, 1:30, 3:15, 6:15 and 8:15.

THE STRAND

The star chamber sessions of the Russian soviet are relentlessly unveiled in "The Right to Happiness." (The Universal) drama of modern Russia at the Strand theatre today.

The spectator sees the "comrades" and cohorts of the two principal Russian agitators in the chamber of horrors in Berlin.

Silk hatted envoys arrive from Berlin. They leave an issue of gold with the money-lustres and retire, confident of the support of the Russian radicals.

A plot of murder, a plot of sedition, leaps to the marble room and flames the smouldering brains of the "comrades" by her greed of violence. Then she leaves Petrograd for New York as an envoy of destruction from leaders of the radicals.

How she finds her sister living in splendor in New York and how the whole heavy machinery is directed against her own father who is known to her only as a stone-hearted money king, forms the theme of the unusual film drama.

Dorothy Phillips, star of "The Heart of Humanity," rises to dramatic heights in a dual role in her latest starring vehicle, "The Right to Happiness." She is sensationally tempestuous in Russia, the little comrade of the reactionaries and fastidious and self-centered as Vivian, her twin sister, daughter of the money lord.

William Stowell, well remembered for his part in "The Heart of Humanity," two previous Universal successes, support the star. Robert Anderson, Hector Sarno, Henry Barron, as an envoy of destruction from leaders of the radicals.

The production was written and produced by Allen Holubar who also created "The Heart of Humanity."
